

Important Announcement

Dear Authors,

Greetings from Assam University, Silchar.

We would like to express our sincere gratitude for your patience and cooperation as we navigated through the author notification process. Due to an exceptionally large volume of submissions, there was a slight delay in finalizing the acceptance/rejection notifications.

As you are aware, ISACC 2025 received an overwhelming response, with approximately 1,000 paper submissions. The process of sending individual notifications to each author required additional time to ensure accuracy and proper communication.

If any author has not yet received the author notification email, we kindly request you to first check your spam or junk folder. If the email is still not found, Please contact us by sending an email to isacc.cseaus@gmail.com with your paper ID regarding the non-receipt of the notification.

We value your cooperation and encourage all authors, regardless of the outcome of their submissions, to stay connected with ISACC 2025.

Best regards,
Organizing Team
